

THE TRAIL OF
PAINTED PONIES

THE TRAIL OF
PAINTED PONIES

*T*was the night before Christmas, when all through the stables.

The Painted Ponies were prancing, on the chairs and on the tables.

They were hanging from the rafters and down the chandeliers.

And everyone could tell this was their favorite time of year.

Soon Santa will arrive and he'll put them in his sleigh.

*He'll carefully wrap each one,
and they'll go up, up and away!*

*And so on Christmas morning,
with the rising of the sun.*

The Trail of Painted Ponies will bring joy to everyone!

Happy Holidays and Happy Trails,

Artist CJ Wells

Crazy Horse
CJ Wells

All of The Trail of Painted Ponies Figurines begin as original works-of-art created by the best established and emerging artists in the world. It is our pleasure to offer retailers an opportunity to exhibit and sell some of these incredible, original Painted Ponies in their stores.

History books describe Crazy Horse as a respected war leader who fought against the U.S. government in an effort to preserve the traditions and values of the Lakota way of life. He was that and much more. As a young man he had a vivid dream of a horseback rider, with lightning zig-zagging down his cheek and a turquoise earring in one ear, who looked up to see a red-backed hawk fly overhead. When he related the dream to his medicine man father, Crazy Horse was told he would achieve future greatness in battle. A lifetime of victories on the battlefield followed, culminating with his triumph over George Armstrong Custer at the Little Bighorn. No photographs of Crazy Horse exist, but with this Pony CJ Wells, a Native “artist warrior” herself, has given him a high-voltage interpretation.
